

BUDGET APP

There are two main types of budget apps. The first is an expense tracker. This is mostly used by people who deduct a lot of stuff from their taxes. Business owners who travel a lot, bloggers like us, truckers keeping track of meals and miles driven, and all sorts of other professionals use expense trackers. This lets you know how much money you spend on all the stuff you need for your job (and life). You then have all the info you need when tax season rears its ugly head.

The other style of budget app is the one you're probably thinking of. It keeps track of your bank budget, your expenses, bills, utilities, and other such things. These are useful for keeping track of where your money goes so that you lose less of it. They are especially helpful for folks who manage multiple accounts at once.
